

THE CREW

Meet the AI crew behind every product.

I don't use one AI. I run a team of specialists.

One assistant is a bottleneck.

Asking a single general AI to do everything is how you get mediocre everything. Real teams have roles. So does mine.

Four roles, one operator.

01 The Builder
Claude Code, where the product gets written.

02 The Reviewer
Reads every diff for bugs and clarity.

03 The QA Engineer
Writes and runs the tests I would skip.

04 The Security Auditor
Hunts the holes before users find them.

THE LOOP

Nothing ships on one pass.

Every change runs the full loop before it goes live.

EVERY CHANGE

Build • Review • Test • Audit • Ship

THE RESULT

A team of one.
That ships like five.

This is how three production products got built without a single hire.

YOUR MOVE

Want to build this way?

Follow for the full agent playbook.

DM me "MVP" to put the crew to work on your idea.
